

The Rat Tail Maze

This artefact is from Ely Museum. Its from the Anglo Saxon period and is over 1100 years old. Its part of a hook which you could use to keep your sock on!

It has rat with its tail all tangled up underneath it. Have a go at following the rats tail from it's body all the way to the end. It's tricky sometimes the tail goes over parts of the tail and sometime under.

Make your own rat tail maze

Have a go at making your own rat tail maze.

Start from the body and draw lots of twists and turns but try to make it so you can still follow it to the end.
